Forecast For Highland & Eilean Siar
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 0400 on Sunday 25 Apr 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Mainly dry with long spells of sunshine.

Today:
Largely dry with long spells of unbroken sunshine, just the risk of an isolated light showers over hills across Lochaber. With light winds it will feel warm again although an onshore breeze will keep the east coast cooler. Maximum temperature 16 deg C (61 deg F).

Tonight:
Dry with evening sunshine. Cloud increasing overnight bringing outbreaks of occasionally heavy, showery rain to northern parts and Lewis towards the end of the night. Freshening southerly winds. Minimum temperature 3 deg C (37 deg F).

Monday:
A rather cloudy morning with outbreaks of occasionally heavy rain giving way more showery conditions for the afternoon with some brighter spells developing. Occasionally fresh southwesterly winds turning more northwesterly. Maximum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Outlook for Tuesday to Thursday:
Rather cloudy with outbreaks of rain or showers, turning wintry on hills. The best of any brighter spells in west, especially through Wednesday and Thursday. Cold, occasionally fresh northerly winds.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.